Number 13

October 2018

Opening Hours

The Library is now back to term time opening hours—9am to 8pm Monday to Friday. One of the four Inn Libraries is open from 10am to 5pm every Saturday during legal terms.

Opening hours for all four Inn Libraries, as well as announcements of any early closures, can be found on our website, and the Inn's Facebook and Twitter pages.

Welcome to new students!

We are open to student members of all four Inns of Court. Apart from a full-service law library, we offer a quiet and attractive working environment, wi-fi and charging points. And it's not too late to collect your Library tote bag and goodies!

Training—Lexis Library and Westlaw

Three training sessions have been scheduled for this week. Open to all Library users and run by experienced external trainers, these aim to help you get the most out of the online resources in the Library or at your chambers. All sessions qualify for CPD. Sign-up online now or at the Library enquiry desk.

Textbooks now arranged by subject

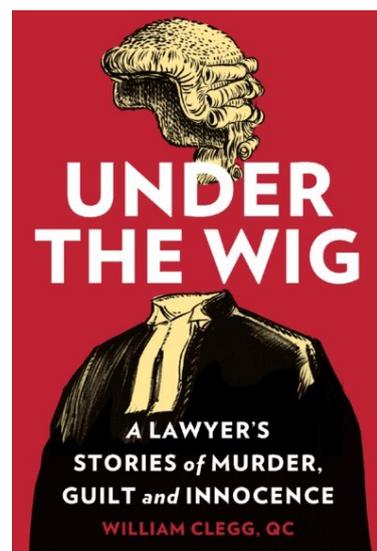

All English textbooks, found in Bays II and III, now have a classmark - a number followed by the first 3 letters of the author's name. For example, contract is classified at 39, so Chitty On Contracts is shelved at 39 CHI.

Library users can identify the classmark when searching for a title on our Catalogue or by consulting the printed guides in the Library. The new arrangement should make it quicker to conduct research by subject and easier for Library staff to assist you.

New Books

New to the Library this month is Under the Wig by William Clegg QC. The memoirs of Gray's Inn's current Vice Treasurer invite you to step into the shoes of a criminal barrister as he 'lays bare the secrets of his profession'.

Further new acquisitions can be browsed via the Library Catalogue
